Malvern, Arkansas: The “Brick Capitol of the World” is going back to its roots. After hearing feedback from local residents and visitors from around the state, Malvern Brickfest is shaking things up a bit and going with a decidedly more local approach in its 29th year. The festival is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, June 21st and 22nd when games, exhibits, good food, and entertainment all come together under the shade trees of Malvern City Park.

Brickfest 2019 will again be packed full of family fun and entertainment for all ages. Events include the Car Show, Brickfest 5K, Bull Bash, Horseshoe Tournament, Brick-B-Q Ribs Cook-off, Watermelon-eating Contest, 3-on-3 Basketball, Dog Show, Baggo Tournament, and Prize Drawing as well as traditional events like the Brick Toss, Best Dressed Brick, and Brick Car Derby – plus a petting zoo and many activities for the kids. And as always, lots of great food will be available from area vendors and food trucks.

Sticking with the local theme, Acme Brick and Sykes Enterprises are proud to welcome the Gable Bradley Band who will perform Saturday night. Now calling Nashville, Tennessee home, Bradley’s hometown is neighboring Hot Springs, Arkansas, and his musical influences include Bruce Springsteen, Kip Moore, Johnny Cash and Motown. Lazy Desperados and opening is Sometimes Sideways set to perform prior to Bradley on Bank OZK Stage. Earlier in the day, Arklahoma and Dino D and the D Train Band will play on the park stage. Adding to the lineup, gospel trio Justified along with Crutchfield the Band as our headliner are scheduled for Friday evening.
